Subject: [contact name] said you are the right person...

Hi, [Recipient's Name],

I recently had a fantastic conversation with [contact name] at your office, who told me you were the person I needed to talk to. After singing your praises for a little bit, they mentioned you're dealing with some employee retention issues. If that's correct, I think I could help you attract better employees and keep the ones like [contact name] who are doing a great job.

My name is [rep name], and I work with Colonial Life to help great businesses like yours find and keep great employees. Don't worry, I'm not here to sell you anything. I'd rather talk about creating partnerships with local businesses like yours.

You might be wondering, "What's in it for me?" Allow me to tell you about a few things we do to make your life easier—and they won't cost you a dime:

- Benefits Counseling and Enrollment: No matter the size of your company, we'll provide benefit counseling and enrollment for every single one of your employees. This service is completely free of charge.
- Gathr HR Software: Take a moment to check out Gathr, our new HR software. It addresses many of the issues HR departments typically face. And the best part... it's also free.
- Voluntary Benefits: We're proud to be a premier voluntary benefits company with some of the best rates in the industry.

I'd love to spend a couple minutes with you to show you how Colonial Life may add tremendous value to your business and provide security to your employees. We all know how crucial benefits are for employee satisfaction and retention, but it can be hard to meet everybody's needs and provide every possible benefit. That's where we come in. Interested in learning more?

Let's find some time next week to talk. Looking forward to hearing from you soon!

Best,

Subject: Are you tired of losing employees yet?

Hi, [Recipient's Name],

I hope you've been having a great week so far! I wanted to follow up on our conversation from last week about improving employee retention at your company.

Voluntary benefits are the best and most affordable way to enhance your benefits package and show employees that you care. With Colonial Life, you can supplement your existing coverage with things like dental, accident, critical illness, hospital indemnity, and more.

When you make the effort to show employees that you genuinely care about their well-being and happiness, word spreads quickly that your company is a fantastic place to work. Your current hardworking employees will be more likely to stay long-term and sing your praises to their friends and colleagues that your organization truly values its people. This organic promotion from within attracts other talented, dedicated workers who also want to be part of such a supportive and caring culture.

Before you know it, your company will have built a reputation as being the best place to build a career, thanks to your employee-first mentality. Taking the time to implement thoughtful policies and benefits demonstrates that your people matter, which leads to higher retention, stronger recruitment, and an overall outstanding workplace.

I'd love to set up a quick conversation to walk through some of our benefit packages I've put together based on your company's needs. This will give you a chance to ask any questions before deciding if voluntary benefits are right for you.

I'm happy to schedule whenever is most convenient for you. Just let me know what day and time works best.

Looking forward to chatting soon!

Subject: Quick follow-up

Hi, [Recipient's Name],

I know how busy things can get, and I hope I'm not flooding your inbox with too many emails. But I wanted to follow up one last time about potentially adding voluntary benefits from Colonial Life to your company's benefits package.

Voluntary benefits are a great way to enhance your offerings with things like accident, critical illness, and hospital indemnity coverage. Doing this gives your employees additional financial protection and shows that you really care about their well-being. Once they see that you're putting in effort to meet their needs, you'll start to see higher quality employees apply to work for you—and you'll be able to keep the already hardworking employees whom you love.

I put together some sample packages with competitive rates that I'd love to review with you. If you have just 15 minutes for a quick call sometime in the next few days, I can walk through the options and answer any questions you have.

Please let me know if you have any availability this week. I'm happy to schedule a call whenever it works best for you.

Hoping to talk soon,
